Business Critical is a multi-discipline practice that has multiple partners to assist in the completion of corporate strategies.

Philip Setter is licensed as a life insurance broker by the Alberta Insurance Council, the Insurance Council of British Columbia, the Life Insurance Council of Saskatchewan, the Insurance Council of Manitoba and the Financial Services Commission of Ontario. These governing bodies oversee licensing of life insurance agencies and agents, screening for suitability and investigating consumer complaints. Annual renewals are required, which includes that individual agents participate in continuing education. As a condition of licensing, all licensees, corporate or individual, are required to carry Errors and Omissions Insurance.
